Well, I'm not doing the bigger box as reccommended---I'm really into the Voight pipes as I have studied a bunch of guys making them and several have used 8" drivers of various brands---several are Lowther----and I bought this driver as it was taouted as a almost Lowther quality----but---all the Fostex spec's show it as horn type speaker---So you think a bookshelf box is best or should I find a horn desgin ???
