Wayne and akhilesh, OK you two, get off of my limb! I like being the martyr, the heretic, and getting people pissed off and yelling at me on the forums. If they don't yell at me I have no way of knowing if anybody actually reads the stuff I write on my site. At least I know people are reading and thinking before they flame away. Now get off my limb before the branch snaps and we all end up falling into the boring mainstream of audio. I have to come up with some new off the wall designs for the Lowthers in my collection. akhilesh, e-mail me any time and tell me about your drivers and enclosures so we can take a more intellegent stab at a baffle step correction circuit. Martin
