What I like about this piece is the fact that the guybuilt them as a joke out of scraps and it's become hismain system. Good graphics too. What puzzled me was the use of the Audax driver (purchasedin UK) which I have not heard much about. Elsewhere it saidthat PE had 'em but a quick check of the catalog came up empty. Other variation on this that intrigues me is the voigt pipethat uses one speak facing front and another facing back...forgot the term for it. :-P
