Must be a from here to there problem because I have it in bookmarks. However, I copied the link to myself as mail and couldnot get it either. This may be because the guy Ron took the bogus *pic*down. Over at www.fullrangedriver.com ron's address is available at the fullrange driver form post called "Does this look familiar?" I was trying to find it and this guy ron responded. Now, on to things we can actually find pictures of real projects. ;-)
