

---

Subject: Re: Best Buy and High End

Posted by guitarplayer on Thu, 28 Jul 2005 13:28:17 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I'm with you. I agree that brick and mortar retailers stuck in the middle are going to be a thing of the past, they will have to focus on home theater or very high priced 2 channel items. The market has already changed so much the past 4 years, and it's jsut the beginning. There will always be a market for manufacturers who provide an exceptional product at an attractive price, but the vast majority of our sales will be direct. Shows like the GPAF and RMAF will become even more important in years to come for us to get the word out about our wares. Regards, Lee

---