Yeah, i'll be happy to give you suggestions. Here are a few questions first that will help us all understand your situation better: How did you build your BR boxes. Did you tune it using some CAD software/ How is the construction? Did you build them yourself? Are they properly sealed except for the vent? What kind of carpeting did you use inside? These may seem like a lot of questions, but will help us (at least me) provide some sensible suggestions. -akhilesh
