Hi. I am looking at single driver speakers again. I saw a single driver speaker company named audio tekne and is a small stand mount. These speakers cost so much but look so old. I saw them on hi-fi farm for sale. That is where you can see what I am taking about. Why so much money and why so little and is this driver such a big deal that it cost so much to make it? Why is this speaker company making you pay so much? Can someone please help me understand? Thanks jm. P.S. Some people say it sounds like a $80,000 dollar speaker but I think that is far from the truth.
