Hi Shane,I would say: no, simply because of efficiency. The amps are about 0.9 watts. They are great for the Khorns (104 db). really not great for anything below 100 db. I would use at least a 10-15 watt amp with 4 inch drivers doing work above 90 Hz, assuming the 90-94 db eff available currently with these drivers. Hope this helps! -akhilesh
