Thanx for the information. As soon as I get caught up with present projects, I plan to try this OB business myself to see what all the brew-ha-ha is about. I'm going to start with Fostex 207E's and EV 8MC's. If it starts to sound like it has possibilities, then maybe I'll start spending money. Are the "round tubes" going to be like a frame around the baffle to break up diffraction?
