I'd stay away from the ultra cheap subs & most kits. They are not great for musicality (may give good SPLs but not flat curve.)The best value for the money I know of is hsu research. You can get a used vtf hsu sub on audio groan for about $350-$400. WELL worth it. Dr. Poh Tser Hsu knows what he is doing with regard to subs. I don't know of any subs for less than that, unless you get a used velodyne. Can't think of anything else in the sub $350 range that would work well. The dca drivers in a PAWO horn deserve a good sub. I'd save. Besides, a good sub can be used in other systems as well. My 2 cents.
