<http://www.partsexpress.com/pe/showdetl.cfm?&Partnumber=295-358l> just bought a pair of these and they are now mounted in their shipping boxes with the back open. I have to admit, they don't sound bad as is. No power, but I didn't expect it to have any. Should I open baffle these? That's my leaning at this point, but if so, how big should I go? I'm only hoping to get down to 120Hz then crossing them over to something better suited for bass. The other option is infinite baffle. Any ideas?Thanks, Dan
