Good to see you around again!We're having another get-together in Dallas this year - the Lone Star Audiofest is the weekend of June 19th at the Embassy Suites near 75 and 635.John Busch is registered and the last couple of years he brought open baffle speakers, so I'll bet he'll have some ideas for you. I think you know him already but if you don't, he's very approachable, a real cool guy to hang out with.I think Brad Baker is also coming this year. He also brings open baffle speakers as I recall. I haven't had the chance to visit with him very much, but he seems like a great guy too.
Hope to see you there!
