

---

Subject: Re: A few questions

Posted by Bill Wassilak on Tue, 09 Mar 2004 21:42:40 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Yep, it's all about dispersion, like I said in the one anser, you have a very narrow vertical dispersion and a wide horizontal dispersion that will keep sound from bouncing off the floor and ceiling to maybe give you a better stereo image. Because in the vertical field your direct sound vs. the reflected sound is a lot less, less interference reflections from the floor and ceiling. Bill W.

---