Jim, you remind me of the wags who pissed and moaned about how sacreligious Mel Gibson's movie about the crucifixion of Christ was two months before anyone had even seen the movie. Of course the whining stopped as soon as it set box office records the first day out of the gate, mostly thanks to the free publicity courtesy of the bible thumpers. Feel free to criticise my design to your heart's content after you've read the article. Oh, no you can't, you cancelled your subscription. I'm sure that Joe D'Appolito, Gerry Koonce, George Augsperger and all the rest at AX will be crushed. I've read your paper and it has some good points but I've gone way past what it has to offer me.
