Subject: Re: TLAH is on the Billfitzmaurice.com site Posted by Bill Fitzmaurice on Tue, 21 Dec 2004 11:57:14 GMT View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Your ceiling height doesn't matter, the boxes are intended to mount at listening level or a bit higher, as they tilt downward, but they could be mounted upside down close to the floor as well. The horn loading, which is minimal, is accomplished via the corner placement, though that is optional. Mid wall or stand mounted away from the wall are other options.

Page 1 of 1 ---- Generated from AudioRoundTable.com