I almost have my NSB enclosures done. I built 4, 8 driver columns so I can either stack them or use them separately or put a single tweeter in the middle. Ive decided not to use the Onkyo tweeters I bought. What I would like to do is use an Altec 811B in the middle of 16 drivers. Any reason this wouldnt work? The horn is taller than a normal tweeter so the 8th and 9th woofer will be a foot apart.Bass will be provided by two Autotubas BTW.taylor
