I'm not using the classic described NSB's, but i could go lower. Most people are using the classic 5 inch NSB's. Mine are 3 inchers.Since I'm using electronic crossovers, the cross can be changed in a second with the turn of a dial.I'm not interested in thoughts on whether I should do it, but on the use of 6-8 inch woofers to do so.So while the discussion can go anyway it wants, it will not be answering my thoughts to to tell me I shouldn't. In interested in discussion around those speakers or some like them.thanks
