Thank you for the valuable information . I just recieved my DCX 2496 today I guess it will take me a few days to get acquainted with the different controls . As you know already My arrays are Rick's RS 8 using 8 fountek ribbons and 8x 7" dayton RS 180 mid/bass , I guess Rick is going to help for the Xover adjustments , as for the DCX I'll post my questions when ready , I'll be happy to recieve as much info as possible as to what to start with , being a beginner in the field or active Xover .
