Well spoken mr. Wayne Parham; and I fully agree.Most of the well known names are "ego driven", but I like it this way. If I have a question like "would you prefere a NEO3 or NEO8 in a 2 way array"? It would be difficult for some "array lovers" to answer because the have built a system with one of the NEO's. I understand the conflict for some, and are just greatfull that some will answer my question. It would be difficult for a DIY to answer because they have normally not been listening to both systems. Sooo ...Greatfull THANKS to all you more or less ego driven wonderfully people that are villing to use time to share your experience with others - DIY or not - I am just geratfull!Mediafreak
