Subject: Re: Room Acoustics
Posted by Wayne Parham on Fri, 12 Mar 2004 23:37:07 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Good link, thanks. It does appear to offer some good advice. I like the mention of air gaps between an insulating cushion or membrane and the room boundary, wall, roof, whatever. I've seen that described by Augsperger too. Good advice. Hang those curtains out a foot and a half from the wall!