Subject: Anyone here with a working ARTA impedance measurement box ?
Posted by zobsky on Mon, 02 Jul 2007 18:40:13 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I'd like to verify resistances between various points of the jig to verify if my ARTA impedance jig is wired correctly. Even better if you are in the Dallas area.I can generate the correct response curves (shapewise, impedance peak at correct frequency)but the impedance values themselves are off, despite the correct reference resistor and calibration procedure.Thanks