Couldn't find a schematic for the GE Radio I'm working on until I found your website. Model E-68.Wayne well knows the trubble I'm having. I'm a kit builder, not too good w/o a wiring diagram. And I've found mistakes obvious even to me that some ham-fisted joe made since 1937.I replaced all the caps and plastic wires; the lights have come on but nobody's home. Now at least I can try to follow the schematic.Kinda fun tho'. I can't belive what an active Forum this is. Maybe I'm in the wrong branch of audio.
