

---

Subject: Re: ? re: Montgomery Ward Airline Radio
Posted by Wayne Parham on Sun, 10 Jul 2005 23:07:52 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Radios like these usually have more intrinsic than extrinsic value. I think they're just really cool. If you think about how someone listened to your radio over the years, history unfolded, and now you have it and can listen to today's events, that's neat. And if it is in good shape, it is interesting and attractive looking too. You can make it part of an art deco style room. But generally, unless it is a particular model that is sought after by collectors, the value is less than a couple hundred dollars. Some of my old tube radios

---