I have just purchased this model I'm not familiar with it I wonder if anyone knows is this a farm type model to be run on 6 volt batt's. the tubes all start with a 1 I assume this means one volt fillaments. The unit may have been modified I'm not sure as I have seen a few old pictures on line of the cahssis and it appears they have a ceramic socket by the right rear of the chassis is this for a current regulating light bulb?. Mine has a transformer in this area I wonder if it has been worked on to be now operated on 110 vac?Thanks for any history or information on this unit. The wood case in in pertty good shape and the chassis has no rust. the tuning eye tube is missingThanks, Pat-
