I have a small Wards Airline portable AM radio that belonged to my father. The "Article" number is 62-1057 and it could be powered with AC or a two section battery pack. It has four tubes: 1R5; 1U4; 1S5; 3S4. The case closes up to be about size of a kid's lunchbox, and it has leather panels attached to the metal case. I know it is at least 55 years old because recall my parents using it when I was a small child. Strangely, it still works.Can anyone tell me where to find more information about this radio, and whether it has any value to collectors?
