Picked up this sweet classic SL-1100 DJ Turntable from a clueless thrift shop for $10 in very sweet condition even though they're almost impossible to break. The only problem with it is the cover is a bit scratched and it didn't help that I cracked the corner with my back side because you have to completly remove it to take it off. The other problem is the strobo illuminator which is really cool, it works, but you have to hold it down to keep it on, you click it and it just goes off when you pull your finger up. Anybody got a broke one with a good cover. They're ancient, I know.-Ross
