Subject: Re: Technics by Panisonic SL-1100
Posted by Ross Rakoff on Sun, 29 Jan 2006 02:10:33 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Right On, Right on....WHat would be a good way to drive? What system? Eventually I will want to learn how to scratch but for now I just wanna play it through a receiver with decent speakers that match its year, though it doesn't always matter. Also, if you know of a system that can play turntables with different ohms that would be most excellent. I think the SL-1100 is probably about 8 ohms and I have an old Garrard which is probably just old fashion 16 ohms. If you own anything that would go nicely that you would wanna sell please let me know, but I must tell you my funding are a little low since I've just been through a little era of unemployment which has finally ended and hopefully will saty that way.-Ross