I have been researching very small portable amps to play with in a car, or in a more mobile situation. The two amps I have been looking at are the "Marshall MS-4 Micro Stack" or the "Marshall MS-2 Mini Amp". But, from the reviews that these two amps have gotten on MusiciansFriend.com, I have become hesitant to order either of them. Which one seems like a better choice? Or, are there any other options which I should consider? Thanks, John
