There are some folks out there with some really good DIY prosound speaker plans. Some are more geared for heavy touring, some for fixed reinforcement and some for high-fidelity theater and the like. Here are a couple of sites from guys that I've visited with over the years. Great stuff! Centauri AudioSpeakerPlans.com P.S. Not affiliated with either of these sites at all. I just think they're good guys and their work is sound. Pun intended.
