I will. Since the shootout I've made the 16 tweeter array change. Smoothed out the raggedness we saw in the LMS. Much better response, instead of boosting at the upper end you now cut a little. I've also made another set. One on top of another makes seriously good sounding array. I'll bring the Omni's also. They've become a really hot box on Bill's site. Easier to build, close in performance.
