I am a total n00b at downloading video. But there is a documentary I'd like to acquire from some sites that use Bittorrent. I only have dialup so I don't even know if it's practical. The doc. is called The Power of Nightmares from BBC by Adam Curtis. But BBC says it's have this big problem making a dvd release. That leaves BitTorrent for getting a version for personal use. How does the d/l handle formatting? If the doc. was done in European Pal format, will the BitTorrent d/l make something like a vcd file from the source? I'm wanting to make it playable on a zone 1 dvd system or run it through a laptop w/projector hookup.
