Here's the itnerary:Finish Line - Cindy McTee : This was a piece commisioned by the Amarillo Symphony and was played for the first time that night.Violin Concerto in D Major, Op.35 -- Erich Korngold : This was the piece that vituoso Stephanie Chase played on. She was very, very good!Prelude and Love-Death from "Tristan and Isolde" -- Wagner : They put the beinning and end of the opera together. Very nice melding of the two.Kamarinskya -- GlinkaRide of the Valkyries -- Wagner (0f course).This was also the last performance for the ConcertMaster (1st violin) who had been with the symphony for 9 years. She was very good and I think I actually prefered her sound to Chase's. Her tone was more full and warm than Chase's was. Very pleasant to listen to.
