I very well may be able to hear out to those higher frequencies...my guess is that I can but it's just a guess.What are those ringing sounds that computer processors make?I can't keep a tube here because I will hear it _going_ allthe time. And more than I few folks are insufferable to listen to on the talk radio-- things I never used to listento but now that streaming audio is available I have been able to findmore quality discussionOTOH I can listen to a table radio and be, you know, _happy_if something good is playing.
