I saw this and thought Craftsman page was a good place for the reference. Origin was PE 3/23/04 [Last frame intentionally left blank... I guess] What is really needed is a crossover how-to... you know....from buying the parts to completion. Ed Dell at _audioXpress_ is dependent on what his writerssend him. But I made the suggestion that any xo informationshould be in three forms: schematic, placement and layout,finally a photgraph. This s not very common but it's the onlytechnique that makes sense to me.
