I've done some temporary mounts of the new Tangband W3-871son a small birch ply baffle. The hardware store(s) I checke didn't seem to have anyblack naoldized screws with round heads, si got some flatheadwoodscrews which do not mound flush but looked to be aboutthe right size. Is there someplace like McFeeley's that the right sortof exact match screws for things like these speaks whichcame with none... no docs either... can be found? A dollar's worth of screws and $5 shipping or something.There must be a better way/alternative.
