Well, it's a shame because I genuinely miss actual publicationsthat I can put on a shelf and go back to over time. No worries about computer crashes and so forth.aX was going to republish (or maybe they have) a series of craft magazines on audio from the 70's.When we look at the hobbyist activity world wide with Klang and Ton and other mags internationally, there shouldbe some way to maintain print publications which I still holdin tremendous value.I believe that aX was/is digitizing their whole archive. Stillarticles on disk are not the same as a printed monthly mag.Thanks for answering Dr. Griffin.
