

---

Subject: Re: is there an equivalent PEM nut for wood? Absolutely!

Posted by Bill Epstein on Sat, 03 Dec 2005 22:00:50 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Sorry I can't post an direct URL 'cause McMaster-Carr has a funny set-up. Go there and look under fasteners-threaded inserts-wood-hex-threaded (not knock-in)All sizes and metal choices and a hex key runs them right into the requisite hole.Just what you need.

McMaster-Carr

---