Subject: Re: "Whatever the question: Tri-Flow is the answer."
Posted by jtsjf on Thu, 05 Oct 2006 01:54:42 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Triflow is a great lubricant, but it will gum up eventually if there is a lot of dirt around. I rode mountain bikes in California for awhile and used it pretty extinsively. Triflow also works real well on guns (I don't want to start a gun discussion) and is easy to clean up.Another very good oil for turntable bearings and stuff like that is "balistol". Also originally designed for guns (no, I'm not a gun freak), it is a very good light, non-gumming lubricant.