Amazon let me know, the bastards, that they were soon to have the latest Jet mini-lathe with indexing. I'd been wanting to rout grooves in knobs but didn't want to have to fabricate an indexing wheel to get the spacing exactly right. Then the Jet has 1/2 horse motor vs. the 1/5 on my Wilton which bogs down with many woods. $199 with free shipping. So, of course, I ordered one. Anybody want to make pens with a Wilton? Cheap?
