My email service fro Netscape sucks. It is giving me fits and seems to have bolluxed up what I have sent. It is a shame because the fine detail from the original drawing I made was preserved. I am making a more complete set of schematics, and will send them to the forum projects files managed by Wayne. A bit more patience please, I will deliver this as promised. Figure Monday by thetime I can distribute the scans(even a pre-liim proof found mistakes and omisions, this must be done right the first time).regards,Douglas
