
Subject: Great Plains Audiofest 2006 Writeup, Page 7
Posted by Wayne Parham on Thu, 25 May 2006 03:55:26 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Azzolina AudioAzzolina Audio's Charlie Azzolina-MichlinAzzolina Audio makes some very fine products, a whole line, in fact. The Basso basshorn is based on the Klipsch LaScala design, with the rear chamber ported for greater extension. The Alto mid/high horn is a large format horn using a Lowther driver and Le Cleac'h expansion. But Charlie didn't stop there, in fact, he specializes in triode amps, introducing the Soprano line stage, Baritone triode push-pull main amp and Tenor USB DAC. Now are you ready for this? Azzolina Audio brought these to market in an amazing seven months! But don't take that to mean Charlie is new to this, no sir. Charlie has been building and designing tube amps and audio gear for years so this was a natural extension of his audio passions. Good work, Charlie!Click photo for larger view
