

---

Subject: Re: sweet...

Posted by Damir on Sat, 17 Dec 2005 14:33:43 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I found a simple solution, little PCB board and strip of rubber between the choke and PCB. Mounting screws M3 through little 3/8" round rubber washer, between the chasis and PCB...P.S. Direct measuring with capacitance-meter gives horrible ~700pF winding capacitance (not real, I hope:-), haha...

---