Subject: FS : Bob Brines FT1600MKII in DFW
Posted by cacophonix on Wed, 12 Dec 2007 19:28:30 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

With a heavy heart, i'm putting up this wonderful speaker up for sale to local Dallas-Fort Worth buyers.I'm moving to a new apartment within the next couple of months, and will lose my listening room ... and i'm forced to cut down the number of speakers i have. My wife also has refused to allow any speakers in the bedroom, so there is no place where i can put these.The driver used is FE167E, and bob brines has come up with a wonderful design that goes down to almost 40Hz. Its based on Martin King's transmission line. Paired with the vista audio i84, they sound beautiful.I had bought the flat pack from bob, and built them myself. The rosewood veneer was put on by a local cabinet maker, and then i finished it with waterlox gloss tung oil finish. The speakers are very heavy due to their unique construction ... and i don't have any packaging material. But I am told that Bob does sell packing materials .. i can ship these if i absolutely have to. Asking for $600.00 obo