Hello: Mr. replay I remember way back in this forum when you wrote of your new 7 pi corner horns and gave a fabulous account of their performance I thought with the larger horn flair. I've waxed between building the corner horns or folded horns (they'd be huge using the Eminence delta 15) or just doing the bass reflex 4 Pi. Are your 7 Pi Corner Horn's sound truly compromised from this deviation in horn flair size? Knucklehead that I am I bought the larger size Eminence flair. No problem getting the right flair cause I have'nt cut wood yet, but I was just curious from your recent post.
