Hi,Welcome to the forum. I agree with Replay. Choose a theater four pi, or perhaps a pro four pi. They will both be very tube friendly. I would build a larger tube amp though. Check out Bruce R's website www.transcendentsound.com He sells output transformerless tube amps; they are available in kit form. You would get great sound, and more available volume. If you build your mentioned amp, you could also use a ss amp for those times when you choose to rock the house.Goog luck,Steve
