Subject: "Time aligned" speakers (snicker) Posted by Wayne Parham on Fri, 26 Oct 2001 08:00:01 GMT View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

There's been a lot of discussions about that very thing. Check out the post called "Phase angles, crossovers and baffle spacing" and the posts contained therein. Recommended reading also in the threads called "Extended bass response from small cabinets" and "Biamping-xovers-12, 18, or 24db/oct" and their contained posts. This last set of threads mentioned discusses woofer resonance, Q and specifically - overring
