Well, having spoken from extensive experience with the Kappa 15lfa's (beefier then the deltas) I don't relaly think the mods your thinking of will do much, if anything.The padding on the basket spokes isn't a bad idea, but I odn't think the rest of it will do much good. The only real small flaw I found was a noticable difference in cone resonance frequency between different woofers. I remember trying to briefly correct this problem by weighting the cones with pennies or something, but gave up.Pretty solid design... Doesn't need much modification.Adam
