Some of the Pi speakers go down to 25Hz, so that should be plenty low for that type of music (if that's what you're asking). It depends on which ones you decide to go with. I decided to build the Theater 4 Pis because I sometimes listen to that stuff myself and don't want to have to use a sub. They're also very sensitive, so they don't need much power. I haven't built them yet, so I can't really remark on how they sound.
