Just got 'em wired and hooked up to my Onkyo receiver at work (it took a double lunch break) and now they are really swinging to Oscar Peterson, Ray Brown, and others! The first minute of play was good but not great; the second was better and the third even better yet. Now after a couple hours of play at office allowable levels the sound is really coming together. I wish I could crank it! There is good balance through the freq. range and the response and dynamics at this low level is very good. Tonight I have to get cooking on the Paramours. After the veneering w/ cherry and the addition of the grill panels I'll pop then on the wife at home. Until then the office gets to enjoy them. Thanks, Wayne and all who helped along the way! I'm PSYCHED!!! BTW, can anybody steer me to a free site for photo posting? Garland
