Aczel doesn't post here and in his magazine he's been known to use the same pejoritive language. Should we hold Damir to a higher standard than Aczel? Last I looked Damir was never disengenous in print; but Aczel has been. I say you lay down with dogs you wake up with fleas. He deserves the same treatment he has accorded his readers; insults; lies and mis-representation of fact. Damir had the guts to point that out in the same manner Aczel uses. Maybe we should be wondering at the extreme level of defensiveness surrounding this guy from ART readers; Could there be some agenda we aren't privy to here? What else could explain such vituperative response in defense of him?Damir is an honest long time ART participant; Aczel is niether.
